Bath Upholstery Program

The VA Healthcare Network Upstate New York at Bath believes in rehabilitation. As part of this initiative, the Upholstery Program has been growing and having a high rate of success with veteran graduates.

The Upholstery Pre-Vocational Apprenticeship Program (PVAP) began in 1991. The six-month program teaches veterans to upholster furniture from a bare frame to a finished product. As veterans learn to upholster furniture on the station, they acquire skills to prepare them to re-enter the work force.

Bath's Upholstery PVAP has helped veterans transition to working in small upholstery shops, larger factories, and operating their own businesses. Employers have been eager to hire these veterans because they have received valuable experience and are committed to their new trade. The program has become a resource to employers seeking workers with upholstery skills.

The VA Healthcare Network Upstate New York at Bath has already realized a great cost savings from the Upholstery program's products. Bath has reupholstered approximately 2,500 pieces on station, renewing the life of this furniture.

Patients who complete the PVAP training may remain with the program to learn advanced upholstery techniques through the Compensated Work Therapy (CWT) program. CWT gives veterans an opportunity to work on advanced projects, such as more difficult chairs and fabric patterns.

Through an arrangement with one local and several other frame manufacturers, the Upholstery program is now able to upholster new furniture frames.

We've opened up the Upholstery program for other VA Medical Centers. The Bath Upholstery program offers quality, fast responses, and ease of working with us. We offer new furniture built from the frame up, or to make your existing furniture new again, with a substantial savings, while putting our veterans training programs first.

We are anxious to work with you!
